HEART OF THE MATTER

The volunteer team at the Hall recently attended a training session on the Hall's new defibrillator, a life-saving machine which was purchased through the kind donations of some local residents. When someone has a cardiac arrest, defibrillation needs to be prompt - for every minute that passes without defibrillation the chances of survival decrease by 14 per cent. Research shows that applying a controlled shock within five minutes of collapse provides the best possible chances of survival. Rural areas and where large crowds gather are all places where we need defibrillators the most so this is an essential piece of equipment for our Hall and our community.

Community Action Planning – Working Better Together

After a busy period of community consultation in February and March, the Community Action Plan (CAP) Steering Group has now completed the work on the development of the new CAP. Villagers thoughts, views, responses and opinions have all been fed into the process and a series of general themes and community priorities have been identified. These will form the basis of community-led action over the coming years and the new Plan will provide robust evidence of community need, which is vital in securing funding for the area. The final stages of the CAP are now underway and the Community Partnership is working with the CAP Steering Group to finalise the information contained in the Plan. The next few weeks will see the draft plan prepared and from there a final document will be agreed with the Group. It is hoped the new Arrochar & Tarbet Community Action Plan will be published and launched in the summer. Meanwhile the results of the National Park Authority Charrette, that took place during March, have recently been published by the independent Design Team, 7N, in a report that can be viewed on www. lochlomond-trossachs.org. The findings of this exercise are being used to help inform the next National Park local development plan which will show what types of development can take place, and where. It will guide future investment across the whole National Park including our community.

ARROCHAR 'YOUTH' OFF TO AFRICA

Local teenagers attending YOUTH, the Friday evening youth club held in the 3V Hall, had expressed a keen interest in going abroad to do voluntary work and after consultation with the Adult leaders it was decided to go to Kenya in July 2014. The plan is that the team will be volunteering in a construction programme enabling a Kenyan village to build and repair essential infrastructure that will help lead to a more independent life style for villagers. Global Vision International, an organisation with experience in arranging this type of expedition will be supporting the project and a presentation of the work they do and what the youngsters could be doing was given on 20th June, followed by a discussion session for parents and supporters in order to help move this project forward .

The team will have to raise approximately £30,000 which will be achieved through group events, individual sponsorship and grant application. This is a great challenge and is achievable with support from the parents, the wider community and youth agencies. The benefit to the teenagers from this project should have a lasting impact and increase their awareness of diversity, culture, poverty, humanitarian and health issues, as well as increase their chance of obtaining further education placement and improving employment opportunities in this current economic downturn.

'The Hidden Heritage of a Landscape: Vengeful Vikings and Reckless Rustlers'

Adult volunteers and school children took part in a major walkover survey of the area coordinated by archaeologists from Northlight

Heritage. Following on from this, over 70 volunteers helped to excavate several sites during four weeks in May, 2013. More information about the results will be posted on the website (<http://hiddenheritage.org.uk/>) and Facebook page. A memorable Open Day at the excavations on May 25th was visited by over 150 people, who came to hear about the archaeology, listen to Norse fiddle music, taste some venison stew, try some traditional rural crafts and drink some Haakon Viking Ale!
